To whomsoever it may concern

Rohit Sharma is working with me since December 2010 and is a very sincere and diligent professional. His communication skills are excellent and he is adept in multitasking. Rohit's analytical and reasoning skills are very good as well. He is a result oriented professional with a keen eye for detail. He is agile in networking with a range of stakeholders both in India and overseas. His Spanish speaking and writing skills have been particularly helpful in engaging our partners from Latin America and Spain.

Rohit has a pleasant, cheerful and balanced personality which makes him affable to work with. His dedication and commitment towards work will make him an asset in any organization that he is a part of.
